

Four Directions Photography

Session Contract

All booking fees are due at the time of booking, in order to secure session date. Unless otherwise discussed with the photographer. All fees are non-refundable.

Post processing time is 1-3 weeks. As soon as your images are complete you will be receive them via online gallery with options to print and a limited print release.

Sessions may be subject to rescheduling due to weather. Photographer will make wise judgments and will take your best interest in mind when determining weather. In the unlikely event the photographer is injured, becomes too ill, or has an extreme emergency that prevents her from photographing the event, photographer will make every attempt to reschedule or find a replacement. Photographer uses their own discretion to find a replacement photographer that they feel is suitable to fit the standards of Four Directions Photography. Per photographers discretion a $20 cancellation fee may apply (and remaining session fee refunded) in the event client cancels their session for reasons other than illness or weather within a two-week period.

In the extreme case that photos are lost due to corruption or equipment failure, Four Directions Photography is not held responsible for lost photos. Session may be rescheduled.

Photographer prefers clean, natural images showing the persons true self, therefore she does not retouch extensively. A blemish here or there may be touched up.

Each standard session comes with a minimum of 7 (average of 25) high resolution images for any standard session along with the printing rights. The number of images received is dependent upon the type and length of each session individually. MINI SESSIONS ARE 3 IMAGES Images are delivered to the client on an online gallery with print release. Images may be used for personal use and sharing. If you choose to post your photos on social networks, please give proper credit to photographer with a link to photography page.

Images received from Four Directions Photography MAY NOT BE EDITED OR ALTERED from their original version in ANY way. This includes but is not limited to: turning color images to black and white, adding text, cropping, or color accenting. Photos reflect on the artist, not the client. All images shot by Four Directions Photography are property of the photographer. Please be aware that any images may be used for advertising, promotion, or sales. Client gives consent to photographer to use all images taken of the subject at discretion of the photographer.

You will receive a "LIMITED COPYRIGHT RELEASE" with your images. This release allows for the possessor to print images at a location of their choice for personal use ONLY. Images may not be used or submitted to any contests of any kind. Client agrees to read and abide by the rules stated in the Limited Copyright Release. Any violation of the Copyright Protection Laws are punishable by law and Four Directions Photography does enforce any violation.

In hiring photographer, you are choosing her for her creative and personal style. Please do not expect photographer to shoot in any other way than that of which you have seen unless photographer states otherwise.

Raw or un-edited images will not be given to the client or third party under any circumstance.

Photographer will choose a location for each session based on proper lighting conditions, session style, and time of year. Locations will fit the photographers shooting/photographic style.

Client agrees to cheerful cooperation and communication. If subject is moody or unresponsive, photographer can not be expected to get the best images possible. Please plan for children and bring water/snacks and/or a favorite toy.

Photographic Limitations: Four Directions Photography shall not be held liable for photographic opportunities lost or photographs deemed to be of less than superior quality due to inclement weather, man-made hazards or eyesores, lack of cooperation by the photography subjects, interference by guests, other vendors or any other persons, or venue-imposed limitations on photo shoot locations, times, and/or Photographer's full use of equipment.

Client agrees to all on-location sessions being at their own risk and fully understands that at any time when working outdoors there are risks involved with terrain and elements. Photographer is not responsible for any injuries that may occur while shooting in any location or with any animals involved with the shoot.

All session sneak peeks are posted on Facebook unless client gives written notification prior to your photo session to photographer stating they do not wish for images to be posted until a later date.

Client has 30 days from the date on your copyright release included with your images to voice any concerns with images. After 30 days, it will be agreed that client is 100% satisfied with session and images.

It is understood that Four Directions Photography photographs labor and deliveries and due to the nature of these events they take priority over all standard sessions (including but not limited to: families, newborns, maternity, etc.). In the event that a labor and delivery take place during your normally scheduled session, you understand that your session will be rescheduled.

In the event that you go into labor and the photographer for any reason is not available to photograph the birth you will receive a credit for the birth portion of your purchase to be applied toward future sessions and/or prints, or if possible a back up photographer will photograph the birth. The backup photographer will be of Four Directions Photography choosing and discretion. If the birth is not able to be photographed for any reason outside the photographers control no credit will be given.

Although Four Directions Photography strives for 100% customer satisfaction, photographer makes no guarantees to image quality or specific shots and or poses. Every session is unique by location, setting, lighting, and situation.

We reserve the right to refuse service to anyone for any reason. If for any reason at any time the photographer finds reason to terminate this contract you will receive a full refund of your session fee.
